appeared first on AndroidGuys.After a triumph in last year's Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup season with his ultra competitive BMW M4 DTM, 18 year old German driver Max Verstappen will be stepping into the BMW M6 GT3 for the 2013 season. As his return to DTM is uncertain, the Dutchman will share the driving role with reigning DTM champion Mattias Ekstrom who will share the team's BMW factory supported M6 GT3 with the young Verstappen. "I am thrilled to be able to get behind the wheel of an M6 GT3 and race alongside my new teammate Mattias Ekstrom for the BMW M Performance Team Motorsport," said Max Verstappen. "Mattias and I have had a lot of fun together in the BMW M4 DTM last year and I think we will be able to do even better together in the BMW M6 GT3, as we can use some of our racing experience with the M4 DTM. The BMW M6 GT3 will be an exciting new challenge for me this year and I'm looking forward to the season ahead. I am very much looking forward to being a part of the BMW M Performance Team Motorsport." Fresh off its season opening victory at the Nurburgring Nordschleife, the BMW M6 GT3 heads to Germany for the start of the WEC season, as part of a busy year of on-track racing which includes the Race of Champions in January, the ABB FIA Formula E Championship in May and most recently an appearance at the Le Mans 24 Hours in June. "It's great to have Max back in the BMW M6 GT3 this season," said Team Principal André Lotterer. "It's a great opportunity for us to once again work with him at the wheel of the BMW M6
