number adobe acrobat dc serial number download. 11 18-1095-3109-7513-9847-2 805.Q: check if value is string or not I'm using C# and I would like to check whether the value of a property is a string or not? [ConfigurationProperty("someProperty", Options=PropertyOptions.None)] public string SomeProperty { get { return _someProperty; } set { if (value is string) { // do something } } } Is there any way of doing this? I can get the value into the property and know the type, but I don't know how to check it.

A: You can use the is operator like this: if (value is string) { //do something }

A: Use is: if(value is string) { //... } Make sure you type value as "Type" and not "Value" Reference California Gov. Jerry Brown announced on Wednesday that he is sending a bill to the state legislature that would legalize the harvest and distribution of cannabis for recreational use. California would be the first state to legalize marijuana through a legislative act and is already one of a handful of states that has decriminalized the drug.

Brown's move to legalize recreational marijuana will come in part due to recent polls showing an overwhelming majority of California residents support the move. The Los Angeles Times reported that the governor may begin rolling out legalization this year in part because he fears an embarrassing defeat if a ballot measure to legalize marijuana
